MODULE 01

Entrepreneurship

2.1 Introduction :

Entrepreneurship occupies a central place in the economic development of a country. In addition to other factors of production, such as raw material, land, capital, labour, entrepreneurship factor is essential for industrial development. Any country requires both small entrepreneurs and big entrepreneurs. In fact, the rapid development of a country depends on the supply of entrepreneurship. Entrepreneurial culture therefore, needs to be inculcated and nurtured among the people. The term 'entrepreneur' and 'entrepreneurship' are different. Entrepreneur is a person and entrepreneurship is a tendency and process. It is necessary for the state to create entrepreneurial opportunities than to create employment opportunities. This unit deals with the concept of entrepreneurship, theories of entrepreneurship, factors stimulating entrepreneurship and obstacles inhibiting entrepreneurship.

2.2 Concept of Entrepreneurship :

Various economists, sociologists and psychologists have used different approaches to explain the concept of entrepreneurship. These approaches are summarized below :

1. Economic Approach : Economists like Richard Cantillon, Adam Smith, J.B. Say, Carl Menger, Joseph Schumpeter have explained the concept of entrepreneurship from the economic point of view. According to the economic approach entrepreneurship is the process of initiating a new venture by organizing the resources required and accepting the risk involved therein. Entrepreneurship and ultimately economic development takes place when the economic condition is favourable. An entrepreneur buys the factors of production at a certain price, converts them into products and sells them at an uncertain price. Thus, economists have emphasized two main aspects, viz. innovation and risk bearing. The entrepreneurs create new things, use new technology, find new sources of raw material, source of new markets and so on. By the innovation function entrepreneurs make available new products to the people and help to raise their standard of living.

2. Sociological Approach : Sociologists have emphasized the impact of social system, ethics, values, customs, and perception on entrepreneurship. They hold that entrepreneurship flourishes in those societies, which recognize the services of entrepreneurs, respect them and give approval to the business and wealth creation. According to them entrepreneur represents society's model personality.

3. Psychological Approach : According to the psychological approach entrepreneurship is influenced by factors like high achievement, motive, self-reliance, creativity, desire to regain the lost status. The psychological approach is developed by Macmillan and Hansen.

4. Modern Approach : The modern approach states that entrepreneurs have to function under adverse conditions. There is a scarcity of labour, shortage of capital and uncertain market. Hence they require to possess organizing skills, innovative ability, decision making ability, risk bearing capacity.

Definition of Entrepreneurship :

Let us now study select definitions of entrepreneurship :

1. Higgins B : Entrepreneurship is the function of seeking investment and production opportunity, organizing an enterprise to undertake a new production, process, raising capital, hiring labour, arranging the supply of raw materials, finding site, introducing new techniques and commodities, discovering new sources of raw materials, and selecting top managers of day-to-day operations of the enterprise.

2. Joseph Schumpeter : Entrepreneurship essentially consists in doing things that are not generally done in the ordinary course of business routine.

3. Peter Drucker : Entrepreneurship occurs when resources are redirected to progressive opportunities not used to ensure administrative efficiency. Entrepreneurship is not natural; it is not creative. It is work. Entrepreneurship requires entrepreneurial management.

- Shikshan Prasarak Mandal , Akluj started the app for uploading videos for the teaching i.e. theory and Practical. Teachers can upload videos for the students and students can watch the videos as per their convenience.
- This App was developed taking into consideration the situaltion of lockdown due to Covid pandemic.
- This App includes registration of all the students having smart phones. Teachers are assigned the specific classes and a class-teacher is also appointed to monitor the activities on the app.
- This app has the facilities to upload unlisted videos on YouTube created by the teachers.
- Also, notes, assignments, extra-curricular and co-curricular activities can also be managed on this app.
- The main purpose behind developing this app was to make students the study material available at their ease as the students from rural areas do not have separate smartphones, they have to share them with the family.
- Scheduling of the videos and other study material became possible due to this app.
